

L'Antoinella Spiller-Reddick is an Adjudications Officer (Policy) with the Office of Policy and Strategy (OP&S) within U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), Department of Homeland Security. Ms. Spiller-Reddick began her career with USCIS in 2006. Prior to joining OP&S, Ms. Spiller-Reddick supported the mission of USCIS as contractor, Legal Intern, and a Refugee Officer. As a part of OP&S, Ms. Spiller-Reddick is responsible for the management, development, and drafting of USCIS policy relating immigration relief for victims of domestic violence as provided by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). VAWA allows certain immigrant victims of domestic violence to self-petition for legal status in the United States. Mrs. Reddick earned her Juris Doctor degree from the American University Washington College of Law and a B.A. in Political Science from Howard University.

Scott Whelan is an Adjudications Officer (Policy) with the Office of Policy and Strategy in the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), Department of Homeland Security. Mr. Whelan manages policy development and implementation of immigration relief for victims of human trafficking and other qualifying crimes through the U nonimmigrant status. Before joining the Office of Policy and Strategy in Washington, Mr. Whelan was an Adjudications Officer at the USCIS Chicago District Office, conducting adjustment and naturalization interviews. Mr. Whelan holds a J.D. from Michigan State University College of Law and a B.A. in Criminal Justice from Indiana University.

Rosemary Hartmann is an Adjudications Officer (Policy) with the Office of Policy and Strategy within U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services, Department of Homeland Security. Ms. Hartmann manages policy development and implementation of immigration relief for victims of human trafficking, the T and U nonimmigrant status, and the Special Immigrant Juvenile status for abused, abandoned and neglected immigrant minors. Prior to joining USCIS, Ms. Hartmann worked with the advocacy community at the Immigrant Women Program of Legal Momentum. Ms. Hartmann holds a J.D. from The Catholic University of America Columbus School of Law, Washington, DC and a B.A. in Government and Women's Studies from Franklin & Marshall College, Lancaster, PA.

Lila Bohorquez is an Adjudications Officer (Policy) with the Office of Policy and Strategy in the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), Department of Homeland Security. Ms. Bohorquez manages policy development and implementation of immigration relief for victims of human trafficking and other qualifying crimes through the adjustment of status to lawful permanent resident for victims in T or U nonimmigrant status. Before joining the Office of Policy and Strategy in Washington, D.C., Ms. Bohorquez was a Supervisory Refugee Officer at the USCIS Refugee Affairs Division, conducting supervisory reviews overseas of refugee resettlement adjudications. Ms. Bohorquez holds a J.D. from Loyola Law School of Los Angeles and a B.A. in Philosophy from Wellesley College.

Danielle Scott is a Management and Program Analyst with the Office of Public Engagement (OPE) within U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), Department of Homeland Security. Ms. Scott began her career with USCIS in 2007. Prior to joining OPE, Ms. Scott served as an analyst within the USCIS, Office of Transformation and the USCIS, Verification Division. As a part of OPE, Ms. Scott is responsible for advancing outreach and communication with state, local, territorial, and tribal partners, as it pertains to immigration relief for victims of human trafficking, domestic violence and other qualifying crimes. Ms. Scott holds a M.S. from Towson University, and a B.S. in Psychology from Towson University.