

The Impact of Adultification on Child Survivors of Trauma with an Emphasis on Children of Color

Thursday, April 11th, 2019

2pm Eastern, 1pm Central, 11am Pacific

Studies show that adults view black girls as less innocent and more adult-like than their counterparts, especially between the ages of 5-14. This webinar is designed to address the impact adultification has on children who experience trauma with an emphasis on black girls. Through storytelling, participants will learn about from Jacqueline's story as it unfolds in three dimensions, revealing how to develop a framework for building resilience with youth and communities of color.

Speaker: Jacqueline Miller

Jacqueline Miller is the founder of Healthy Actions Intervening Responsibly (H.A.I.R.). With over 20 years in the domestic violence field; she shares her knowledge and expertise on the impact domestic violence has on children's health, understanding trauma including ACEs, and the impact "adultification has children's lives and well-being.

Register: <https://nrcdv.adobeconnect.com/ace-dv-4/event/registration.html>

For support or questions related to this event, contact Ivonne Ortiz at iortiz@nrcdv.org.

This webinar was made possible by Grant Number #90EV042802 from the Administration on Children, Youth and Families, Family and Youth Services Bureau, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Its contents are solely the responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily represent the official views of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.