Breckan Erdman: Yes! The powerpoint, webinar recording, and other related materials will be available on VAWnet.org after the webinar: <https://vawnet.org/material/impact-adultification-child-survivors-trauma-emphasis-children-color>

Mary Jo Vasquez: Thank you

Whitney Parker: Thank you!

Corina Klies: They way movies/music portray girls

Mary Jo Vasquez: coming from single parent home

Breckan Erdman: Poll: What might accelerate subjective aging?

Allison Gasca-Backman: Maybe whether you have a grownup who can absorb some of those grownup experiences for you

Mary Jo Vasquez 2: Parents' expectations of children's behaviors

Cara Ditto: family dynamics, roles

Mary Jo Vasquez: economic

Janae Johnson: communities where they live, systemic issues

Venita Embry: not understanding adolescent development patterns

Margarita Aguila: culture

Mary Jo Vasquez: culture

Tonjje Reese: Their birth order (ex. oldest taking care of younger sibs)

Yesenia Aguayo: society, media, culture

Mary Jo Vasquez 2: Peers

Erica P Harris: lack of guidance / negative stereotypes in media

Tonjje Reese: Discipline/punishment in schools

Janae Johnson: institutionalized racism

Darlene Garcia-Johnson: the oversexualization of children when it comes to clothing

Venita Embry: stress

Ana Velazquez: Parents shifting adult responsibilities onto children, like being a caregiver of younger siblings

Salamawit Berhane: If a child is given too many responsibilities and not allowed to be children that might impacts how they view themselves

Summer Chitwood: Exposure to violence and abuse, having to take on responsibility beyond a certain developmental level (i.e. taking care of younger siblings)

Mary Jo Vasquez: Perfect example

Corina Klies: internalized sexism - especially about what a girl's clothing says about her sexual availability

Breckan Erdman: Thank you all for these great examples!

Margarita Aguila: parents that have survived themselves and see this as a norm; or even if they survived and now they are passing the responsibility onto their kids, high expectations for child to "know better"

Keith Burgess: This is great information. Thank you for sharing

Keith Burgess: I fall into this category regarding Adultification

Breckan Erdman: Thank you for sharing, Keith. We're so glad you're here for today's webinar!

Keith Burgess: Thank you Breckan

Keith Burgess: Is there any way I can gain access to this powerpoint?

Breckan Erdman: Yes! The powerpoint, webinar recording, and related materials will be available on VAWnet.org after the webinar: <https://vawnet.org/material/impact-adultification-child-survivors-trauma-emphasis-children-color>

Breckan Erdman: We will also send out a follow-up email with the link to the webinar materials on VAWnet

Keith Burgess: Excellent Thank you!

Keith Burgess: They used to sell cigarettes in the form of bubble gum. I used to buy them a lot as a kid. I had no clue it was based on the trauma I expressed

Keith Burgess: Experienced(gr)

Breckan Erdman: Thanks for sharing, Keith! That's really interesting.

Darlene Garcia-Johnson: Great Book and now movie that shows this concept is, Angie Thomas

Mary Jo Vasquez: I have had the same conversation with my son, who is a young Latino! Especially when he went to college

Darlene Garcia-Johnson: The Hate You Give

Breckan Erdman: Thanks for the recommendation, Darlene!

Breckan Erdman: And thank you for sharing your experiences with your son, Mary Jo.

Whitney Parker: Also, gentrification due to displacement

Whitney Parker: Your zip code (not your genetic code) determines your social determinants of health and well-being

Whitney Parker: This is great information

Whitney Parker: Thank you for this

Darlene Garcia-Johnson: Working with low-income clients is such an important topic that gets overlooked. There are many factors that come into play with that particular group of people

Darlene Garcia-Johnson: that we are often not prepared to deal with Tonjje Reese: This is amazing. Thank you so much for this.

Breckan Erdman: Thank you for making these great points!

Corina Klies: not sure if this has been said, but I have talked with kids who were adultified through domestic violence where children are forced into situations they shouldn't be because of the violence. This is really hard, though, because this often gets interpreted as the victim, usually the mom, is somehow equally or even the sole person to blame. One of the consequences is that the child/ren are separated from the mom. This has specific implications for communities of color because of implicit bias/stereotypes.

Mary Jo Vasquez: Agree 100% Corina

Breckan Erdman: Thank you so much, Corina. That's a really important point.

Yesenia Aguayo: Yes, I agree!!

Darlene Garcia-Johnson: Agreed Corina.

Ana Velazquez: That's an excellent point Corina!

Salamawit Berhane: You have a lot of good and true points

Corina Klies: You're welcome. Unfortunately, it is something I have seen happen in my previous advocacy work.

Mary Jo Vasquez: Same here Corina, still continues in my work

Salamawit Berhane: I think there should be more training at the schools.

Salamawit Berhane: So children are not stigmatized not only by their peers but also their teachers

Mary Jo Vasquez: However, it happens more with clients that are undocumented

Darlene Garcia-Johnson: Kids get the cues from the adult that is present.

Whitney Parker: The child is safe when the mom is safe -- THAT IS SO TRUE

Darlene Garcia-Johnson: It happens mainly to the most vulnerable or the "underdog"

Breckan Erdman: You can learn more about the ACE study

here: <https://www.cdc.gov/violenceprevention/childabuseandneglect/cestudy/index.html>

Breckan Erdman: And learn more about fostering resilience in children who have been exposed to trauma from VAWnet's Fostering Resilience in Childhood special collection: <https://vawnet.org/sc/fostering-resilience-respect-healthy-growth-childhood-and-beyond>

Corina Klies: This is a wonderful resource here in Columbus, Ohio - Rise Sister Rise, <http://www.risesisterrise.net/index.html>

Breckan Erdman: Thank you so much for sharing that, Corina!

Mary Jo Vasquez: Thank you!!

Janae Johnson: Thank you so much!

Yesenia Aguayo: Great information, thank you!!

Whitney Parker: This was excellent!

Tonjje Reese: Thank you!

Arlene Vassell: Great information!!! Thank you so much...

Whitney Parker: Thank you, Thank you!!!

Ana Velazquez: Thank you so much for all the excellent information that was provided!

Cynthia Williams: Great Presentation!!!

Erica P Harris: I appreciate that. it did not diminish the message.

Breckan Erdman: Thank you so much for joining us, everyone! Feel free to share any questions here in the chat.

Margarita Aguila: thank you so much for sharing your life experiences and your knowledge

Cynthia Kahele: Thank you so much! I am excited to share this information with others in my agency.

Mary Jo Vasquez: Yes, indeed thank you for sharing your story!

Keith Burgess: Outstanding presentation. When I think my book is finished. This information adds value to my story of being a survivor of Adultification. Thank you thank you and thank you again.

Jacqueline Sills: Awesome job!!

Breckan Erdman: Wonderful!

NRCDV Admin 2: Please pose any questions you have here :)

Mary Jo Vasquez: Love to know more about equity, is there information that I can look up?

Mary Jo Vasquez: Equality vs Equity

Corina Klies: Thank you! I am excited to look at the website.

Breckan Erdman: Great question, Mary Jo! We'll ask Jacqueline for her thoughts.

Mary Jo Vasquez: Thank you

Salamawit Berhane: Thank you for a great presentation

Arlene Vassell: So very true!

Salamawit Berhane: I hope you can do this presentation in schools

Mary Jo Vasquez: Can you repeat that again

NRCDV Admin: the4thbox.org

Mary Jo Vasquez: Yes thank you

Breckan Erdman: Thanks for your great question, Mary Jo!

Mary Jo Vasquez: I have been bringing this topic up a lot in staff meetings

Mary Jo Vasquez: will be presenting on it in a few weeks

Jacqueline: Thanks, y'all!

Mary Jo Vasquez: Thank you

Breckan Erdman: Wonderful!

Tonjie Reese: I will definitely be using this information in some upcoming prevention workshops.

Breckan Erdman: That is great to hear, Tonjie!

Ana Velazquez: Thanks again for all the great information!!

Breckan Erdman: Thank you for joining today's session! Please be sure to respond to our brief survey upon logging out.
