

Addressing the Influences of Implicit Biases, Inequities & Historical Trauma Have on Aging Processes for Children of Color

Thursday, April 16th, 2020

3pm Eastern, 2pm Central, 12pm Pacific

Trauma and toxic stress often stem from experiences that occur disproportionately in the lives of girls and women, and of girls and women of color in particular. The adultification of African American girls who have histories of trauma has become the manifestation of how the needs of women and girls of color are overlooked and misunderstood. In this webinar, attendees will learn about the impact of implicit biases, inequities and historical trauma on the lives of children of color.

Speaker: Jacqueline Miller

Jacqueline Miller is the founder of Healthy Actions Intervening Responsibly (H.A.I.R.). With over 20 years in the domestic violence field she shares her knowledge and expertise on the impact domestic violence has on children's health, understanding trauma including ACEs, and the impact adultification has on children's lives and well-being.

Register: https://nrcdv.adobeconnect.com/implicitbiases/event/event\_info.html

For support or questions related to this event, contact Ivonne Ortiz at iortiz@nrcdv.org.

This webinar is supported by Grant Number #90EV0428 from the Administration on Children, Youth and Families, Family and Youth Services Bureau, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Its contents are solely the responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily represent the official views of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.