

Enhancing Services to Male Survivors Part II: Voices from the Field

August 25, 2020 – 3-4:30pm Eastern, 2-3:30pm Central, 1-2:30pm Pacific

Shame and stigma are devastating for many male victims. Many domestic violence agencies continue to struggle with the idea of making shelter services more gender-inclusive. Part II of the Enhancing Services to Male Survivors webinar series will showcase the work of two domestic violence agencies that are leading the way as they expand their services to male survivors. The presenters will share lessons learned through this process and will offer promising practices to help build capacity to recognize and respond to the needs of male-identified survivors of domestic violence.

Presenters:

- Toby Fraser and Sean Whiteman from Lutheran Settlement House in Philadelphia, PA
- Rosa Greenlee and Nathan Hawkins from The Family Place in Dallas, TX
