

2023 NATIONAL PREVENTION YOUTH SUMMIT

Health Equity Matters:

Making Connections through Experiences

Monday & Tuesday, February 27th and 28th

4-6pm Eastern | 3-5pm Central | 1-3pm Pacific

This inaugural youth-led event will center the voices, experiences, and wisdom of youth leaders engaged in social change work. This year's free virtual summit will explore the ways in which promoting health equity for youth is critical to building healthy relationships and communities. Over two days, participants will learn how positive pleasure-based sexuality and fostering racial equity are connected and necessary to creating conditions where youth can thrive.

Day 1: Promoting Pleasurable and Healthy Sexualities

Day 2: Healthy Sexuality: What does it look like in an (in)equitable world?
